

TVET Administration in Dire Dawa, Ethiopia: Challenges and Recommended Solutions of Dire Dawa TVET Administration

Ethiopia, one of the fastest growing economies in Africa, has decided that agricultural led economy should handover its great role to the industry within the coming 5 years. This would be true if there is strong and quality TVET which can support the industries with skilled and competent work force. But still Ethiopian Ministry of Education is reporting that our TVET could not fulfill the requirement of the economy. For the failure of perfect implementation of the strategy every stakeholder shares its own part; our TVET administration has not yet been managing the program as it was claimed to be. For proper implementation of policies and strategies qualified manpower at all levels is the basic foundation. Policies with good intentions fail due to lack of qualified professional to implement them. This is mainly true in countries like Ethiopia. Which must be given serious considerations. The knowledge, skills and attitudes in management can be acquired through learning from experience and from formally organized courses. This may characterize management as a discipline with various subjects and topics. what are the basic challenges of TVET system in Dire Dawa, Ethiopia? let us read it.
