

Four Minutes Past Midnight - True tales of the supernatural

True life experiences of the paranormal from the authors early childhood to the present. These fascinating events prove that life is indeed stranger than fiction. They culminate in a revelation, hidden in full view throughout: The proverbial Doomsday Clock will go on ticking, for each and every one of us, beyond the figurative hour of Midnight. Our psychic abilities go hand in hand with our survival. Both in this life and beyond! We are mindful that these strange stories are actual recorded events in the life of an ordinary person like you and me, not mere figments of a vivid imagination.
